One Dead, 33 Injured in 44 Area Crashes

Michael Poynor, 20, GC Sailor, Is Killed In Fall from Auto

One man was killed and 33 persons were hurt in a toll of 44 traffic accidents in the Quad-City area during the weekend. Three small children were injury victims of one accident. Four persons were hurt in another mishap.

A Granite City sailor was killed and two other persons were injured when they were thrown from a tailgate of a 1965 station wagon at 2:40 a.m. Friday on Poag road.

Pronounced dead on arrival at 3:10 a.m. at Wood River Township Hospital was Seaman Michael Vernon Poynor, 20, of 2142 Edison avenue, who was home on leave from his base at Norfolk, Va., with his wife and eight-month-old daughter.

Admitted to the hospital were David Allan Poynor, 19, a brother of the sailor who resides at the same address, and Ray Rutledge, 15, of 2538 East 27th street. David Poynor suffered severe abrasions to the left side of the face and abrasions about the body, and Rutledge, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ramon Rutledge and cousin of Alderman Paul Rutledge, suffered abrasions to the back and both elbows.

Others in the auto were Michael D. Parks, 19, of 2017 Maryville road, the driver; Fred Finazzo, 17, of 2720 Saratoga; and William Rutledge, 16, Ray's brother.

Madison county sheriff's deputies patrolling Poag road came across the scene and saw four persons walking around and another lying on his back in an unconscious condition. Finazzo had left to get his car, which was located at Route 111. An ambulance was summoned.

Riding on Tailgate Deputies said the three had been riding on the tailgate when a chrome bar came off the back of the luggage rack, causing them to be thrown into the ground. They were holding onto the bar.

The accident occurred a half mile north of the old Poag school at the Hartford canal levee on Poag road. An inquest is to be conducted by Deputy Coroner Leslie Marks at Wood River.

Seaman Poynor died of head injuries suffered in the fall. He had been in the Navy since May 1967 and previously had been employed at Granite City Steel Co.

A native of St. Louis, Seaman Poynor lived here 18 years and was a member of the New Bethel Baptist Church.

He and his wife, Judith (Brace) Poynor and daughter, Michelle Lee, arrived here July 18 for a vacation leave and were to have departed today for his

Wortman Dies; Once Sought Foothold Here

Frank Leonard "Buster" Wortman, 63, area leader of the gangster syndicate, who once sought a foothold here, died Saturday night at Alton-Saunder Hospital, St. Louis.

He had undergone surgery there Thursday for a lesion on the larynx. He had liver and heart ailments in recent years.

A former Shelton gangster who was recognized as the head of the underworld in this region for more than two decades, Wortman sought to include the Quad-Cities in his domain during the 1940s and early 1950s.

Citizens, aided by state police raids, succeeded in closing gang-operated gambling operations at several locations in Venice and later along Collinsville road. On one occasion, a forecast in advance by extensive Press-Record coverage, a Wortman relative was apprehended at a Venice casino.

Dick H. Mudge jr., Madison county state's attorney from 1956 to 1964, "raided" a Wortman-linked casino on Collinsville road with leaflets from an airplane during his first campaign, and his stand was regarded as aiding his election. Mudge's pledges were kept, and Wortman subsequently concentrated

Judicial Convention Delegates Selected

Conventions Aug. 12 To Pick Candidates For Circuit Judge

Delegates and alternates who will meet in judicial conventions Aug. 12 to nominate Democratic and Republican candidates for a fourth Madison county judgeship were named Thursday night in county conventions.

The Madison County Democratic Central Committee, meeting in the courthouse at Edwardsville, named 115 delegates and 115 alternates. Republicans met in the Mineral Springs hotel at Alton and selected 78 delegates and 78 alternates. The number of delegates and alternates allowed each party is based on one delegate and one alternate for each 500 votes cast in the last previous election of an Illinois governor.

City Picketing To Be Halted for Council Session

Granite City police and firemen will remove their informational picket lines from the city hall today when officers close at 5 p.m. so as not to interfere with tonight's city council session.

Alan McMaster, president of the police union, told the Press-Record the unions do not want to block a council meeting or force the council to meet elsewhere. Several aldermen have said they would not cross a picket line to enter the city hall.

"No progress" was made in a five-hour bargaining session yesterday afternoon in the office of United Steelworkers agent Clyde Boyd, an alderman.

Ten council members were present along with Federal Mediator Bernard M. O'Keefe, Charles G. Caldwell, president of the State Firefighters Association, four firemen, four police and William Marting and Harold Benedict of the municipal employees' union.

Counter-proposals on behalf of the two departments were described as $100 monthly the first year and $50 the second year; $75 and $35; or $72.50 and $47.50. Aldermen increased their $25-$50-$70-$100-$120 semi-annual raise plan to $25-$50-$75-$100-$125.

Tonight's meeting is to start about 7:45 p.m. for a town board session in advance of the regular 8 o'clock council meeting, and the wage dispute between the police-men's union and the council is expected to be a major issue.

Large delegations of police, firemen and other city employees have been in attendance at the last several meetings. The last council session was on July 22.

Several other major issues also are pending — acquisition of an easement from Granite City Steel Co. along East 23rd street for a drainage ditch and the garbage-trash collection.

Haddix told officers he was driving in his car in the 400 block of Madison avenue, Madison, when he was stopped.

Venice-Madison Plan For Housing Renewal

By HARRY BARNES

A plan for a locally established Venice-Madison Housing Authority that would direct construction and sale of individual houses as a means of eliminating substandard housing in parts of both cities was outlined to members of the Venice city council Friday night by Mayor John E. Lee.

The program, if initiated, would involve funds available from the Urban Renewal Agency, the Federal Housing Administration, and some private capital, the mayor said.

Concepts of a joint Venice-Madison project was presented to him and Mayor Stephen Maeras of Madison by Theodore Mikesell, executive director of the Southwest Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission, in a meeting Friday morning. Mayor Lee informed the council.

End Substandard Homes

"That meeting was arranged, he said, to discuss with Mikesell what steps could be taken by Venice and Madison to provide housing for relocation of residents now living in deteriorated properties and for elimination of substandard dwellings, the mayor explained.

"Mr. Mikesell's idea is the nearest thing yet to what we have been looking for as a means of providing housing at a price the people would be able to pay and which would not require us to go into large, costly, multiple-dwelling housing projects," Mayor Lee said. He said that he and Mayor Maeras were so impressed with Mikesell's suggestions that they authorized the planning director to obtain the services of a qualified consultant to make a feasibility study and draft a definite program along the lines recommended by Mikesell.

Groups of Five to 20

"We asked Mikesell if SIMAPCO could handle the work, but he said the agency is so busy with other work that it would be quite some time before it could handle the Venice-Madison planning," Mayor Lee said.

"He told us it is probable we will have to employ a St. Louis consultant, since there are few consultants in this area qualified for such service," he added.

An advantage of Mikesell's proposal, the mayor pointed out, is that individual houses could be built in groups of five, ten or 20 at a time.

This would permit relocation of families in small groups rather than trying to resettle a large number of families in a single major slum clearance or housing project.

Could Condemn Property According to Mikesell, the mayor told the council, the joint city housing authority would have the right to condemn substandard properties, whose owners would be paid the value of their property by the Urban Renewal Agency.

The family then could use that money as a down payment for a new home, on which loans would be available from the FHA on 40-year mortgages at a low interest rate, probably 3 1/2% or 4%.

As one group of families moves into new houses, the lots on which their old homes are located would be cleared and used for construction of another group of homes. Mayor Lee said it is probable the first project would be undertaken with construction of 20 homes.

The mayor pointed out that the plan is now only in the talking stage and that many details remain to be resolved.

"But it certainly seems to fit our need," he said. The feasibility study and program preparation will cost about $10,000, to be shared by Venice and Madison on a population basis.

Grand Jury to Study Landfill This Week

Appointed

Allegations regarding operation of the controversial Mal landfill on Chouteau Island will be presented to the Madison county grand jury this week, State's Attorney Leon Scroggins told the Press-Record today.

Meanwhile, an attack against the landfill operation has been opened on an entirely new front.

Scroggins would say only that witnesses "are expected to be called" in a probe of the landfill controversy some time late this week after grand jurors dispose of routine business. The grand jury convened in a recall session this morning at Edwardsville.

The new attack was made in a request to Gov. Samuel H. Shapiro for an investigation by the Illinois attorney general's office of allegedly "serious health law violations."

The request was made by Wood River Township Supervisor Rodger Elbie, who told the governor by letter that county and state officials have failed to act in enforcing landfill regulations and that, as a result, refuse is dumped at night while it is not supervised and raw, foul-smelling garbage remains uncollected.

Sends 20 Photographs

The supervisor said he also sent to the governor 20 photographs which he took during a personal look-out at the landfill July 21, along with a list of five alleged major violations of landfill regulations.

Elbie charged that Scroggins had failed to investigate why the landfill cannot be made to comply with state and county rules and regulations relative to operation of sanitary landfills.

Mal landfill is owned partly by Dr. John E. Lee, mayor of Venice. Other partners are William Miller of St. Louis, former Venice scrap yard operator, and Leo Abel. Abel is a former Madison bridge toll collector who formerly was employed by Chouteau Island Landfill near the site of Mal landfill.

Dr. Lee said he was unimpressed by Elbie's charges "because Mal is checked now

Venice Sets Up Gasoline Tax Fund for Underpass

An ordinance appropriating $200,000 in motor fuel taxes to be used for payment of city costs in construction of the proposed Broadway underpass was adopted by the Venice city council Friday night in a move designed to save the city part of a $800,000 escrow fund. Mayor John E. Lee told the council that a projection of MFT funds through 1973 indicated the city will receive about $35,450 per year. Venice now has on hand $120,000 in MFT funds. This would result in a total yield of $297,250 for the five-year period, he explained. Commitments over the five-year period total $21,000, including $13,800 for a Hampden street project and $18,000 for Weaver street and Circle drive projects now under way. Other committed costs for arterial street maintenance during the five years amount to $80,000, the mayor said.

Costs Related to Underpass
As a result, the city should have $175,450 in MFT funds that can be used to pay a variety of costs resulting from construction of the underpass, a joint city-state-railroad project.

Mayor Lee said the appropriation was drawn in the amount of $200,000, or $25,000 in excess of the projected income, because of the possibility of a supplemental allocation. The appropriation is subject to approval of the Illinois state highway division.

Venice now has on hand an escrow fund of about $800,000 that it put aside to meet underpass construction costs. Mayor Lee pointed out that the state will project motor fuel tax expenditures only on a two-year basis. However, he said, it is possible for the city to pay construction costs out of the escrow fund, and then replace those payments with MFT money as it becomes available.

16 Apartments Planned
The Venice council also approved Friday night a building permit for construction of two eight-family apartments, building as a building cost of $100,000. A second permit in connection with the same project also was approved to permit moving two houses now standing on the apartment site to another location. Permit for construction of the apartments was granted Ray.

Dance on Thursday to Help State Champs in Tourney

Clark's Vikings of Granite City, the best Illinois slow-pitch softball team, is being aided in financing Aug. 16-18 regional competition by a fund campaign launched here this week. All proceeds from a dance at the Granite City ice rink pavilion from 8 p.m. to 11 p.m. Thursday, Aug. 8, will go to the fund for the team's trip to Sheboygan, Wis., Park Board President William Kasyak announced.

The $1 tickets will be available at the door as well as being sold in advance. The Moberg Shotgun group will provide music for the high school and college age dancers.

Tickets for the dance will be sold this week by members of the champion team, enabling persons not planning to attend the dance to also support the squad. If there are surplus funds, they will go to the park athletic program.

Some funds for the Wisconsin trip were provided through the state Class A tournament which ended a week ago in Caseyville. The Clark service station here and Clark Oil Co. also are assisting.

Money that is raised will go for travel, meals and living accommodations. Other expenses will be met by the 15 players, many of whom will miss work in order to play in the midwestern regional tournament.

A victory in Sheboygan would entitle the Vikings to advance to the world slow-pitch softball championship tournament Aug. 30-Sept. 2 at Long Island, N.Y.

Fire Destroys Tavern Building, Probe Started

Fire early Saturday at the former Hillbilly Haven tavern on Route 111, north of Interstate 70, which virtually destroyed the frame structure, apparently originated from two different areas within the building, Long Lake Fire Chief Jack Harper said today.

The blaze had spread through much of the interior when Long Lake volunteer firemen arrived at the scene at 1:45 a.m. and only the shell of the building was left standing.

Harper said pieces of paper and wood were found in two separate locations in the structure, and an investigation is underway. A fire was extinguished at the tavern about a month ago, he added.

He noted that an exterior neon sign was illuminated, indicating the tavern apparently was open for business prior to the 1:40 a.m. blaze. Firemen were at the scene until 4:10 a.m. and managed to confine the blaze inside, he said.

Long Lake firemen were summoned to a fire in a 22nd building at the former Smith-Douglass plant on Highway 162, east of Route 111, at 8 a.m. yesterday. Two stolen autos found inside the structure had been stripped of tires, radios and other accessories and apparently were deliberately set ablaze.

State police are tracing the owners of the vehicles, described as 1968 and 1969-71 models, from license plates on the cars, Harper said. Little damage was reported to the metal building.

Two Charges Filed

New Coach, Seasoned Team Await Trojan Grid Campaign

Madison high school will officially start its pre-season football activities on Aug. 22 when all equipment is to be picked up by prospective players at the Madison high school gym starting at 9 a.m.

There will be new faces around the locker room this year as well as members of a group of 17 lettermen returning from last season. The major addition to the team this season will be the new Trojan grid coach, Alvin Vonder Haar.

Returning along with the lettermen will be another important asset to the team, Charles Stepcoe, assistant varsity coach last season.

Coach Vonder Haar has commented to the Press-Record that "perhaps one of the things that will hurt us at first is that the boys won't be used to my type of football, or I won't be acquainted with the league. That can work two ways though; take our first game with O'Fallon, for example.

Seven Veteran Starters

"The other coach will have to be guessing as to what to expect from us, knowing that every coach has his own ideas and plays football in a different way.

"The list of boys that I will have to work with is most impressive. Seven starters are returning, including the quarterback."

Asked how he thought the Aug. 26 start of school would affect this year's team, Vonder Haar replied, "It has to hurt us to some extent because generally a team has at least a week to really get into shape.

They don't start school over there until almost a week after we do here. It is all going to depend on how out of shape the players have become over the summer holidays."

Lettermen returning are Willie Ackers, 140-pound junior halfback; Dan Bartsel, 180-pound junior end; Melvin Bradley, 155-pound senior end; William Campbell, 210-pound senior center; Dale Clinton, 155-pound senior halfback; John Ervin, 150-pound junior halfback; Oscar Hagler, 175-pound junior end; John Harper, 200-pound senior tackle; Eddie Hilton, 170-pound junior end; Harold James, 180-pound junior fullback; Steve Lewis, 245-pound senior tackle; Earl Malone, 175-pound senior end; Ted Narvaez, 180-pound junior fullback; James Scott, 145-pound senior quarterback; Robert Scott, 190-pound guard; Dennis Smith, 245-pound junior tackle; and Tony Young, 180-pound junior guard.

With Cahokia dropping out, although still among the Trojans' opponents, the Midwestern Conference will consist of six football teams. MHS will consist of six football teams. HMS will play five league foes and four others.

Three Children Hurt

Three children were injured in Madison at 7:20 p.m. Thursday when a car in which they were riding, and which was being pushed by another auto, started suddenly and ran out of control up the side of the McCambridge viaduct along Market street.

Given treatment at St. Elizabeth Hospital were Harold Wright, 8, of 44 Garces Homes, who suffered a back injury; Carlene Wright, 8, contusions and abrasions to the right knee, and Dwayne Wright, 2, who was given skull x-rays. Harold Wright was admitted to the hospital. The other two were released after treatment.

Their mother, Mrs. Anna Mae Wright, also was a passenger in the car, but was uninjured.

Madison police reported the car was driven by Clarence Isaac, 615 Salvator street, Madison, while it was being pushed by Roosevelt Ware of East St. Louis in an attempt to start the motor of Isaac's car. Police said they learned the motor started suddenly and that the gas pedal apparently jammed at the same time.

The car, headed east on Market street, lost control, ran over the curbing and up the side of the approach to McCambridge viaduct.

Cuts and bruises were listed for the two motorists and a passenger in the Hiscott auto, Michael Mueller, 20, of 1527 Lindell Blvd. It was raining at the time of the crash, and Milton was charged with failing to yield the right-of-way.

Also giving Hibbard a challenge was Larry Cannon, who finished second, a car length behind. Following these two were Roy Gary, Bill Meyers, Kenny Range and Loren Salmons.

Charles Booden won the consolation race, with Charles Corbin second and Ron Rogers third.

Bill Utz won the first heat and was the faster qualifier with a time of 24.92 seconds.

What's Happening to Grass

Rains and hot weather are causing clumps of dead grass to appear in lawns.

Most of these dead clumps are the summertime effects of melting-out disease in bluegrass. Hot weather and frequent rains can start a forest fire of disease that may destroy large areas of your lawn.

Melting out is the sudden fading out of small areas and gradual browning. The symptoms are similar to drought, but begin after rain and wet weather.

Close examination shows clumps of rotting grass without the occasional green shoot where drought occurs. Chewed off grass and loose straw are typical of webworm. Watering helps grass to recover from webworm but helps the fungus to kill the grass when melting out is the cause. The disease quickly creates the forest fire when rain and hot weather occurs.

Control depends on identification. Avoid watering if melting out is present. If drought does occur, then deep water once every week. Continue to cut.

Governor Signs Bills

Five bills signed by the continuing session of the General Assembly were signed into law last week by Gov. Samuel H. Shapiro. Of prime importance was the bi-partisan support of S. 214 which authorized the temporary borrowing of $60 million in idle motor fuel tax funds for general state purposes. The funds are to be repaid to the road fund by June 1970.

In other action Gov. Shapiro signed bills that provide for election of a fourth circuit judge in certain circuits. These bills are to be passed by the third circuit, composed of Bond and Madison counties; 14th circuit, Henry, Mercer, Rock Island and Whiteside counties; 16th circuit, DeKalb, Kane and Kendall counties; and 17th circuit, Boone and Winnebago counties.

Two companion bills make changes to the proposed $1 billion bond issue on air and water pollution control. The major change was to raise the interest rates on bonds which will be authorized by passage of the referendum.

Gov. Shapiro also signed a bill calling for another referendum that would authorize Illinois banks to establish branches in foreign countries.

Building Projects

A $24,202 contract for reconstruction at Galeburg Regional Hospital was awarded last week. Other proposed projects include improvements and repairs at Dixon State School; Murray Children's Center, Centerville; the Washington Park and Madison Street Armories, Springfield; Illinois Building and William Healy School, Chicago; highway buildings, Elgin; Waukegan Armory and Manteo State Hospital.

Health Grant

A $500,000 grant to improve mental health services has been awarded to the Chicago Board of Health. The grant raises the total to $6,022,222 in state grants awarded this year to various mental health clinics throughout the state.

Mental Health Center

Participating in the dedication of the H. Douglas Singer Zone Center, Rockford, Gov. Samuel H. Shapiro traced progress in the state's program for better mental health.

He told those attending ceremonies opening the newest $7.3 million center that Illinois citizens, by approving the $150 million bond issue in 1960, "opened doors in Illinois that were still tightly closed in practically every state across the nation. You were among the very first to offer genuine hope to your mentally ill and mentally retarded neighbors."

The Singer Center is the fourth to be dedicated in the last two years. Three others, in Peoria, Champaign and Springfield, will be dedicated this year.

Road Too Narrow

Teenagers Exchange Views On Brotherhood Objectives

A unique dialogue has been started among teenagers representing a complete cross-section of the Quad-Cities, and further candid conversations are being considered, with possibly a steering group formed to assist.

The YMCA is the principal sponsor and Marvin VanMetre, "Y" adult program and membership director, served as moderator for the initial evening of constructive exchanges of opinions and observations.

Present were 31 teenagers, 14 white and 17 non-white, and 11 adults, four white and seven non-white. Location was the Bethel Chapel on Market street, Venice.

The group explored in general the racial problems of 1968. The meeting was organized by Willie Walker, community coordinator of the YMCA.

After introductory statements by VanMetre, the teenagers divided into four groups, each composed of all segments represented at the gathering. Thirty minutes later, the entire body reassembled and each of the four sections reported on what it had discussed.

Value of Communication Topics included local school systems, teachers, school boards and school activities, as related to racial questions; the

Collide in Madison

One car received minor damage and another was undamaged in a rear-end collision accident at 7:20 a.m. Thursday in front of the Madison police station, 1539 Third street, Madison. Police said a car driven by Chester D. Orr, 546 Barkley street, was struck from the rear by an auto driven by Louis D. Maripa, 2728 Harding avenue.

McKinley Bridge Toll Increases Scheduled Oct. 1

Toll charges on the Venice-owned McKinley Bridge will increase in nearly all classes — with passenger fares at 30 cents — under and ordinance adopted Friday night by the Venice city council.

The rate boosts will become effective at 12:01 a.m. Oct. 1, beginning of the bridge's new fiscal year.

The ordinance was adopted in accordance with a recommendation of a New York engineering firm which undertook a traffic survey three months ago at the request of representatives of the bridge bondholders. The city still owes $20 million in bridge bonds and has been faced with a steady decrease in bridge traffic and revenue.

The cash bridge toll, now 25 five cents to 30 cents, while other increases will range from two cents to 15 cents, depending on the weight of vehicles.

Ticket Books Up 46c Minimum increase of two cents will be confined to ticket books containing 20 tickets good for 30 days. Under the present schedule, each ticket in the book costs 18 cents, or $3.60 for the book. The new schedule adopted by the council Friday raises the cost of each ticket to 20 cents, or $4 for the book.

Toll for pickup and panel trucks will increase from 35 to 40 cents, while there will be increases of ten cents for two-axle and three-axle trucks. Two-axle trucks now paying 40 cents, will pay 50 cents; three-axle trucks, now paying 50 cents, will pay 60 cents.

The toll for four-axle trucks will rise from 60 to 75 cents. Five-axle trucks also will be increased 15 cents, from 75 to 90 cents.

Bus Toll Rises Local bus tolls will increase from 30 to 40 cents and toll for other buses will be raised from 50 to 60 cents.

Motor scooters will pay 25 cents, up five cents, while there will be no change in the 10-cent toll for auto trailers and cycles, or the $5 toll for extra high or wide loads.

The traffic survey firm of Coverdale & Collette of New York estimated the higher toll schedule would result in $116,000 in additional revenue for the fiscal year ending Sept. 30, 1969. The firm admitted, however, that the rise in toll charges will result in the loss of some bridge traffic.

The bridge administration has been confronted with financial difficulties growing out of traffic losses to toll-free bridges opened in this area by the state. The city is expected to default Sept. 1 on payment of $11 million in interest on $13 million of outstanding "B" bonds.

Woman Arrested in Venice Damages Jail

Eldon Glover, 42, East St. Louis, was free on bonds totaling $1000 today following her arrest in Venice early Saturday on four charges.

Police said they were called about 12:30 a.m. to the American Legion Post, 799 Home, where the operator told them he had attempted to get a group of persons to leave the place. Officers said the Glover woman, who was a member of the party, refused to leave and became abusive to police.

Police said they had to use force to get her into a police car and into the police station, where she declined to give her name or other information. Police charged her in Jane Doe warrants with disorderly conduct, resisting arrest and drunkenness. She was identified later.

A fourth charge, vandalism, was filed after the woman, locked in the ladies' jail quarters on the second floor of the city hall, allegedly pried a toilet fixture from the floor, causing water to run throughout the night into the men's jail quarters on the main floor and into the basement. Police said there was several inches of water in the men's jail cells and eight inches to a foot of water in the basement.

Grand Jury

by the state more than any other landfill in the county.

"I would say it is being checked about every week instead of regularly required inspections because of all the controversy."

Complies With Rules

He pointed out that the landfill is certified for operation as complying not only with county ordinance requirements, but also with state regulations.

The mayor scoffed at reports that the landfill could be a million-dollar a year business.

"The business has been running a monthly gross of about $6500," Dr. Lee said.

The landfill is located on Chouteau Island at the foot of the Madison-owned Chain of Rocks Bridge, which at one time was closed abruptly allegedly seriously handicapping the operations of another landfill. The bridge is now closed for installation of a new expansion joint.

Elble asserted in his letter to Gov. Shapiro that about 75% of the haulers using Mal landfill are from Missouri.

In referring to enforcement of landfill regulations, Elble told the governor:

Charges Complacency

"It appears that the situation has been with Madison county too long for anyone to believe corrective action will be executed at the county level."

"Like the county's lack of action by the Illinois Department of Health is evidence that it appears the state has adopted the same attitude of complacency regarding the operation of the Mal landfill."

Specifically, Elble charged the landfill "never has been adequately fenced," and that there is no entrance gate to prevent trucks from dumping at the site when it is not attended.

He alleged that insufficient cover material is applied, allowing attraction and breeding of flies, other insects and rodents.

Operation of Mal landfill, or any other, on Chouteau Island has been the object of repeated attack by residents living in the area.

Varied Operations

Principal business interests included gambling establishments, a racing news service, bookies, taverns, restaurants, night clubs, a loan company, real estate firms, race horses, a trucking line, lotteries, slot machines, jukeboxes and pinball machines. during a raid on a still near Collinsville.

In July 1966, an Internal Revenue Service agent checking whether the Padlock was paying cabaret taxes was cursed and slugged by Wortman. The next May the IRS smashed his network of handbooks with simultaneous raids.

In February 1967, Wortman, Elmer Dowling and Gregory F. "Red" Moore were convicted in the U. S. district court at East St. Louis of conspiracy to evade federal income taxes. Moore at one time was active in the former Hyde Park club in Venice. Dowling and his bodyguard were shot to death the next month, touching off an investigation of alleged jury tampering at the tax evasion trial.

Wortman and Moore were sentenced to five-year prison terms and $10,000 fines, but the U. S. appeals court in Chicago reversed both convictions in January 1964.

Wortman was shot through the abdomen Feb. 22, 1964, but survived after emergency surgery at St. Mary's Hospital, East St. Louis.

His survivors include his second wife, Sylvia, two sons and two daughters.

Funeral services are planned for 10:30 a.m. Wednesday at St. Stephen's Catholic Church, Caseyville, with burial at Mount Carmel Cemetery, Belleville. He is at a Collinsville funeral home.

Turns Left, Struck

Upon turning left onto Johnson road from Nameoki road, an auto driven by Judith Noud, Glen Carbon, was struck in the right side by another car driven by Janet H. Gallauer, 2206 East 20th street, at 2:30 p.m. Sunday.

Car Windshield Shot

As Minnie Anderson, 614 Mercedia street, Venice, drove under the railroad highline on Route 203 south of Madison at 10 a.m. Saturday, someone atop the highline used an air rifle to fire a pellet through the windshield of her auto.

Donald Coryell, 32, Wounded By Gun, Dies Sunday

Donald Coryell, 32, an unemployed mechanic of 801 West street, Madison, died about 8:30 a.m. yesterday of a gunshot wound which, police were told, was self-inflicted as his wife, Patsy, looked on.

Madison police said Mr. Coryell was shot in the chest just above the heart with a .22-caliber pistol. He was alive when placed in an ambulance but was pronounced dead on arrival at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

The shooting, authorities reported, occurred during an argument between Coryell and his wife concerning a 15-year-old baby sitter who had taken care of the Coryells' four small children Saturday night, and early Sunday morning while Mrs. Coryell was looking for her husband.

In a signed statement to Madison police, Mrs. Coryell related that she left the baby sitter in charge of the children about 9 p.m. Saturday to search for her husband. She returned later, she said, and found the baby sitter on a bed and asked her what she was doing there.

Had Been Asleep
The girl told her she had been asleep. Mrs. Coryell said she asked the girl if Coryell had been home and the girl replied that he had, but left again. The girl left the house, Mrs. Coryell's statement continued.

Mrs. Coryell told police she then went into the bedroom and subsequently opened a closet door, finding her husband standing in the closet.

A violent argument ensued, the statement said, and Mrs. Coryell told her husband that he could get in serious trouble and could go to prison for his actions.

She quoted Coryell as saying: "Before any young girl sends me to prison, I'll kill myself." He moved toward a dresser on which the gun was lying, but she said she reached it first. Mr. Coryell took the gun away from her, pointed it toward his chest and pulled the trigger, Mrs. Coryell said.

She said she picked up the gun, replaced it on the dresser and then ran across the street to the home of a neighbor, who called police and an ambulance.

Services in Jonesboro
Police said when they arrived they found Mr. Coryell lying on his back between a bed and the dresser.

His body was taken to a Jonesboro, Ill., funeral home, where services are to be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow, with burial in the Jonesboro cemetery.

He is survived by his wife and four children, Donald, Tommy, Revue Sue and Mary Jane, whose ages range up to 10 years. He also is survived by his father, Jack Coryell, of Anna, Ill.; his mother, Mrs. Pearl St. Johns of Jonesboro, his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Della Linton of Jonesboro, his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Florence Hazel, Thibault, Ill., and four brothers, Robert of Granite City, James of Kankakee and Joseph and William of Jonesboro.

Education Dean to Stress SIU-SW Rol in Urban Area

A man who is convinced that the American schools aren't doing their best job with very many students is the new dean of the Education Division at Southern Illinois University's Southwestern campus.

W. Deane Wiley, who earned a doctoral degree from Claremont Graduate School in California, began his role as dean this month. He and Mrs. Wiley are the parents of four children, ranging in age from six weeks to seven years. They are residing at Oak Dale Lake, Edwardsville.

Coming to SIU-SW from New York University, Dean Wiley served as a deputy division head at New York for the Division of Administration and Supervision.

In an interview, Dean Wiley talked about SIU-SW and its role in this area. "For the next 15 to 20 years, higher education had better focus on the educational needs of large urban areas. We, at SIU, are the only state university in Illinois close enough to the Missouri-Illinois metropolitan area to make a real impact on this need," he said.

Dean Wiley expressed the hope that one of the major thrusts for his division will be toward urban problems in education.

Ghetto Research
Such research is not new for Wiley. He has been active in research projects at New York University concerning education in ghetto areas. Previous to going to New York, he was a school administrator in California.

This summer he completed a research project in New York City which proposed the creation of a four-year high school in conjunction with a private university. In the study, sponsored by the Carnegie Foundation, Wiley and the research team suggest an experimental program which would draw ghetto youngsters into high school. The proposal was not for the traditional "laboratory school," but one which would entice students to enroll because of curriculum and teaching methods innovations.

"We must change our preconceived notions of what education is," he explains. "We've got to learn to take a different view, rather than expect education to continue as we experience it."

Individualize Teaching
Dean Wiley is interested in motivation research and believes educators have only gone on lip service to individual instruction.

In explaining his concern, the dean cites the traditional requirement of a student through grades one to 12. He believes this stratification of students is wrong.

"We box students in, instead of deciding what kinds of behavior we desire and through exposure to the school."

"Mathematics," he adds, "is a prime example." He points out that "as early as the freshman year in high school, we decide which students will be able to take these courses and at what grade level."

"This practice ignores the fact that a student may be ready for a course at a different time than he is scheduled to take it."

An advocate of more emphasis on behavioral sciences education, the dean believes of the general scope of America's educational system is too restricted.

The new dean is not coming to the midwest for the first time. He is a native of Nebraska. His bachelor degree is in public administration from Claremont Men's College. Both his master and doctorate degrees are from Claremont in school administration.

High School Expert
For six years after completing his first degree, Dean Wiley was in the field of business and industry. From 1954 to 1966 he was associated with a high school in California. The last three years of this period he served as senior high school principal of the Claremont University.

Two years ago, Wiley went to New York University as associate professor and director of the administrative intern program.

He is the author of "Working in the City: With Your School Principal" and co-author of "The Flexibly Scheduled High School."

He also served as assistant director of a three-year research program to study decision-making behavior of the New York City school board. This $500,000 grant from the Danforth Foundation includes research for four cities: New York, Los Angeles, Boston and Chicago. The four teams of educators completed basic research last year on school governance. Two more years will be consumed in compiling the data and developing the research into specific recommendations.

Man Arrested After Firing Gun at Woman
A man who admitted that he fired shot at a woman early yesterday was booked by police on charges of unlawful use of a weapon and discharging firearms within the city limits.

Police went to the trailer home of Chester Jones, 37, at 2300 Nameoki road after receiving a telephone report that a man had shot a woman. Jones told the officer he had fired at a woman friend as she left the trailer, but said he did not know if the bullet had struck her or not.

The woman, who was unhurt, arrived at the scene while the investigation was underway. Police confiscated a .22-caliber foreign-made automatic handgun found in the trailer. Jones was released on $50 cash bail to appear at a hearing later this week.

Charged After Mishap In Parking Lot Today
Upon entering a parking lot at 15th street and Madison avenue, an auto driven by Gerald A. Swittek, 2314 Lincoln avenue, was struck by another driven by Mack V. Coulter Jr., 1813 Primrose avenue, at 1:30 a.m. today.

A disorderly conduct charge was filed against Swittek on district court. The complaint alleges that last March 25 she slipped and fell on debris on the floor in the store and suffered severe and permanent injuries. Negligence was charged.

Venice Tax Payments Hit 81.5% of Total

Tax payments totaling $2,213,045 were made to the Venice township collector's office during the collection period that opened June 24 and closed last week. Frank Reidelberger, town collector, reported today. Reidelberger said payments included $1,119,470 in real estate tax and $1,093,575 in personal property taxes. The total payments represented 81.5% of the total tax bill of $2,727,328 charged for collection this year, he said.

The Venice township books will be balanced and then turned over to the county treasurer's office where future payments will be made, Reidelberger said.

Payments to the Venice collection office during the last week the office remained open included a first installment of $29,855 by Union Electric Co. which paid its bill this week without tax protest.

Inflation, Imports Cited In GC Steel Reply to LBJ

Nicholas P. Veeder, chairman and chief executive officer, and Lyle F. Guiley, president of the American Iron and Steel Institute, said that the rapid and continued growth in steel imports is creating a serious threat to our national security and the unfavorable balance of payments.

The reply was telegraphed to the White House Sunday afternoon.

"Thank you for your telegram concerning steel prices and the importance of price stability and a strong dollar, convictions we certainly share."

"In response, we should make clear the undersigned speak only for one company, Granite City Steel Co. We were not a part of the group which negotiated the new steel labor contract, 1968-1971."

"However, our situation is no different from that of other steel companies in the American industries as well. On the one hand, the cost of the war in Vietnam and other government expenditures have led to strong inflationary pressures and made wage and other cost increases inevitable."

"On the other, the active opposition of your administration to quotas which would have limited foreign steel shipments into the U. S. has allowed low-wage foreign steel to capture so much of the American market that an American steel company has no chance whatsoever of increasing volume to a level sufficient to absorb at least some of the higher costs."

"If steel prices are, as you state, a matter of 'critical public interest,' then so is the fact that imported steel captured more than 11% of the American market last year and will capture about 15% this year. Imports are expected to increase further beyond the growth in the demand for steel."

mittee has stated that a 'convincing case' has been made that the rapid and continued growth in steel imports is creating a serious threat to our national security and the unfavorable balance of payments. We simply cannot understand how the administration can follow policies which serve to encourage the import trend."

"In conclusion, we are confronted with substantially higher costs in the operation of our company and with the necessity of deciding in the near future how best to provide for those costs."

"Higher volume than is presently anticipated would permit us to use our new facilities more efficiently."

"We would be in much better position to hold to moderate, selective price increases if the government was able to assure substantial additional tonnage, either by the immediate adoption of realistic import limitations at the level proposed in the Hartke Senate Bill or by selective federal purchases of steel from this company under long-term contracts."

Registration of kindergarten pupils will be conducted at the same place and hours on Wednesday and Thursday, Aug. 14 and 15.

Parents of kindergarten pupils are required to bring the child's birth certificate when registering the youngster, who must reach the age of five by Dec. 31, 1968.

Three gas barges broke loose near the Lewis & Clark bridges at Alton, it was reported at 7:35 p.m. Sunday. The office of the lockmaster at the Chain of Rocks locks had no report of leakage or damage, and the barges apparently were recovered intact.

Unconverted GI Insurance To be Costly to Older Vets

More than half of the 285,000 Illinois veterans who hold $2,044,576,000 worth of government life insurance have not yet converted these policies from term to a permanent plan, John B. Naser, manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Chicago, said today.

He pointed out that last year Illinois veterans paid $33,288,000 in premiums to keep both term and permanent government life insurance policies in force.

Most of the term policies are held by world war II and Korean Conflict veterans, Naser said. Now at an average age of nearly 49, world war II veterans in Illinois who have not converted their government life insurance will soon find their National Service Life Insurance premiums going up as a result of advancing age.

The manager noted, for example, that the premium at age 40 for an NSLI term policy climbs 50% at age 50, and before age three the rate 40 premium when a veteran reaches age 60.

Although permanent insurance costs more to begin with, the Chicago VA manager acknowledged, the premium rates for permanent insurance never go up. Further, he said, permanent policies have loan cash-surrender, paid-up, and extended insurance values. Term policies do not.

In reminding Illinois veterans of the value of converting their government life insurance term policies to one of seven permanent plans available to them, Naser said that the relatively high dividends on term policies at earlier ages normally decline as policy holders grow older, thus making it even more costly to retain term insurance.

Veterans can obtain detailed information about the various government life insurance permanent plans from their nearest VA office.

VA Advises Vets On Dental Care

Veterans who need dental care for conditions developed during their active military service should apply to the Veterans Administration within the first year after their release from military service, a VA official advises.

Joseph J. Frankel, MD, director of the VA Outpatient Clinic of the Chicago West Side Hospital, said that in most instances veterans are limited by law to a "one-time completion" of treatment for conditions incurred during military service and that generally this must come within a year after discharge.

The one year limitation does not apply to treatment of service-connected dental disabilities that are severe enough to rate VA compensation, Dr. Frankel said.

Conditions resulting from service wounds or injuries, although no minor to rate compensation—can also be treated after one year.

The same is true of dental conditions that the VA decides are aggravating other service-connected conditions.

Former prisoners of war are entitled to dental care as often as needed for service-connected dental disabilities.

Treatment for some dental conditions may be started for Vietnam veterans even before a final decision has been made on the service connection, provided application is made within six months after release from service.

Disabled veterans who are receiving training under VA's vocational rehabilitation program and Spanish American War Veterans are eligible for dental care without regard to connected conditions.

Dr. Frankel said VA provides treatment at any of its field stations equipped and manned to provide these services. Private dentists may be authorized to treat veterans when the VA is unable to provide treatment or when it is considered a hardship for the veteran to report to a VA facility.

Illinois in 1818-Vital Steps In the Process of Creating State Taken By Congress During April

(From the Files of the Granite City Press-Record)

The Illinois Memorial praying for statehood, adopted by the Territorial Council on Dec. 10, 1817, was laid before the lower house of Congress by Nathaniel Pope, the delegate from the territory, in the U. S. House of Representatives on Jan. 16, 1818.

It was immediately referred to a select committee of which Pope was chairman.

The memorial was brought up for consideration on Jan. 23. Its title was: "To enable the people of Illinois Territory to form a constitution and state government, and for the admission of that state into the Union, on equal footing with the original states."

It was modeled after the Indiana Enabling Act which was approved by Congress in 1816.

After authorizing the inhabitants of the territory "to form for themselves a constitution and state government and to assume such name as they shall deem proper," Congress fixed the boundaries of the proposed state "as they are at present, with the exception that the northern boundary is to be an east and west line drawn through a point ten miles north of the southern extreme of Lake Michigan."

In order to obviate any difference over the validity of the change in the ordinance, the convention was required to ratify the boundaries aforesaid, otherwise, they shall remain as now prescribed by the ordinance."

Section Three of the bill authorized "all white male citizens of the United States who shall have arrived at the age of 21 years, and have resided in said territory six months previous to the day of election, and all persons having in other respects the legal qualifications to vote for representatives in the General Assembly of the said territory, to choose representatives to form a convention." This differed from the Indiana act, which required a year's residence.

The Enabling Act was referred back to the House on Friday, Jan. 23, and sent to the Committee of the Whole.

It was not taken up, however, until April 4, 1818. While the bill was pending, Pope introduced an amendment changing the northern boundary to its present position. A few other amendments, all of a minor nature, also were offered.

The third reading and final passage of the bill in the House took place on April 6, apparently without opposition. It was transmitted to the Senate the following day.

There was some opposition in the Senate and the bill was not adopted until April 14. It was signed by the President on April 18, 1818.

Holographs-3-D for Biologists

(American Institute of Physics)

Since holographs were first made five years ago, they have found several applications. They can be used for the study of structural materials and for information storage in computers, but they may be most valuable in biological studies.

Mrs. Mary E. Cox of the University of Michigan, Flint College, discussed the advantages of biological holography at a meeting of the American Physical Society-American Association of Physics Teachers in Chicago.

Biologists have long been hampered because they can focus their microscopes in only one plane. To study the structure of an object, they had to continually refocus their lenses.

If the object (for example, a dividing cell) changed during the refocusing, there was no way of coming back to study the original form. It was also difficult to study a living organism that moved through different layers.

Some of these problems have been overcome by slide preparation techniques; but these techniques almost always killed the specimen, and the living characteristics were lost.

These problems can now be solved by using holograms. When a living specimen is photographed, all of its characteristics (except movement and change) are captured. The biologists then study the hologram under the microscope at his leisure.

Reassessment An Inexpensive Way to End Property Valuation Unfairness

As pointed out last week in a detailed report by Dr. Leo Cohen of Collinsville on Madison county property taxation, assessment-unfairness is lacking, violating the intent of the state law and causing unfairness to local residents.

This situation focuses attention on the discussions being held on conducting a St. Clair county reassessment program. The same opportunity to correct real estate valuation inequities confronts Madison county.

As property owners are well aware, land and buildings make up the bulk of the assessment base financing the operation of schools, cities, townships, parks, the levee district and the county government. Theoretically, assessors determine values accurately and the county review board makes whatever adjustments are needed between townships. But the procedure tends to get out of whack after a few years even with the best of intentions, and not many people have any doubt that this has happened in Madison county today.

Findings in St. Clair county indicate that reappraisal of all real property by an independent firm could be paid for over a three-year period by a temporary tax of less than 1% of the present tax rate. This would be a bargain in comparison with the benefits—all real estate impartially given precise valuations with a fair and direct relationship between assessments of the same types of property.

It would be proper and well worth the effort for Madison county to look into the reassessment procedure information currently being compiled in the neighboring county.

Smaller Staff Is One Way That City Could Raise Pay and Balance Budget

The decision by East St. Louis to lay off 21 municipal employees has caused a financial ends meet undoubtedly will be studied by some Granite Cityans in evaluating the pay dispute in which Granite City police and firemen have been working hard hicketing.

For some time, Granite City has tended to hire fewer personnel at higher pay than certain other communities in this region, such as Alton and Belleville. Madison, with its bridge fund surplus, has been an exception in its salary levels, particularly for the 1968-69 year.

Granite City officials have provided in their new budget what the majority of them apparently believe is the most money that will be available for remuneration of police and firemen.

If the resulting pay levels based on present staff size prove to be inadequate, one of the possible answers considered may be a smaller number of men, enabling each to get a bigger slice of the available pie. Of course, this would mean rather than decrease the manpower working between the Granite City departments and those in other cities.

Funds Being Raised to Send Local State Softball Champs to Midwestern Tourney

Local sports fans are expected to buy numerous tickets as a means of helping provide funds to send the Clark's Vikings team of Granite City, 1968 Illinois state slow-pitch champions, to the midwestern regional softball tournament, Aug. 16-18 in Long Island, N.Y.

The ticket sales, this week's Wilson Park teenage dance and other events have been planned to make the trip possible and to show staunch hometown support. With the Vikings well and are confident they will wage spirited competition in the midwestern tourney, a forerunner to the world championships Aug. 30-Sept. 2 in Long Island, N.Y.

Limits on Productivity of Workers Hold Back the Standard of Living

By GEORGE CHAMPION,

Board Chairman, the Chase Manhattan Bank

(Second of Two Articles)

It is not widely understood why capital is important to the individual citizen.

The majority of jobs in this country enjoy good jobs and high living standards. The fact that somebody invested between $15,000 and $20,000 worth of private capital to create each job is unknown to them.

So is the fact that capital—both human and material—is responsible for about three-quarters of the increase in productivity that has boosted our wage scales to the highest levels in the world.

Rising productivity is simply taken for granted. The point out that, in this respect, the United States has far outstripped Western Europe. Sweden comes closest with the U. S. rate. West Germany stands at 60%, France 58% and Britain 52%.

What is conspicuously overlooked is that labor costs in this country are rising twice as fast as productivity is being improved.

The upshot is that for the past 2 1/2 years, labor costs per unit of output in manufacturing have been mounting at an annual rate of about 5% and there is no end in sight.

If you add for rising prices and taxes, the real income of many workers is actually lower now than it was in 1965, when the current wave of soaring government spending and inflation began.

Everybody is well aware of a federal tax, but it comes as a surprise to some taxpayers that state and local taxes are rising even faster.

Tax receipts per family on state and local levels went up as much as one-fourth from 1965 to 1967.

This means that at least $3-to-$4 a week for the average worker, so he is worse off than before, despite a rise in dollar gross national product of $100 billion in two years.

Where, then, did the benefits of economic growth go? They did not go into corporate profits, which edged up only from $45 billion in 1965 to $47 billion last year; or 4%.

A better measure is profit on invested capital. The rate of return on stockholders' equity for all manufacturing corporations dropped from 15% in 1965 to 11 1/2% last year.

But total government spending—federal, state and local—increased 35% from a base of $182 billion in mid-1965 to $246 billion at the end of 1967. Government's share in GNP is up from 27% to 30 1/2%.

In other words, most of the nation's economic growth in the past 2 1/2 years has been pre-empted by government.

Recalls E. B. Nelson As Warm, Witty Friend

To the Editor:

Granite City mourns the loss of one of its finest citizens, Mr. E. B. Nelson. Gene was a Christian gentleman with a warm, friendly personality that endeared him in the hearts of all who knew him.

His words of cheer and ready wit brought happiness. A short visit with Gene made the rest of your day brighter. He did not pursue happiness; he created it. He was a warm, friendly man who knew how to live and who knew how to love.

His passing will leave an empty space in our lives. The lives of his family and loved ones but with all who knew him.

Ability of Streams to Purify Themselves Can Be Jeopardized

(Illinois Committee for Pure Air and Water)

Water is a living organism—it needs oxygen. A stream will purify itself, given enough time, enough water, and oxygen.

The bacteria in sewage reduce organic wastes to a simpler and less harmful form, but the process, vital oxygen is also consumed. When the levels of the streams are low or when the waste load is too heavy, the oxygen is cut down in the water.

The flow of many Illinois streams is now so low that effective self-purification is impossible.

Huge quantities of fresh water must be added to them in the near future if they are to dilute the increasing waste loads and survive the pollution threat.

Municipal sewage systems can not chlorinate to kill disease-producing organisms and can treat wastes to a high degree, industries, which often send water into nearby waterways, can instead direct the used water through cooling towers to lower its temperature before it is returned to the source.

Oil and gas wastes can be disposed of through injection wells.

Many industries are doing these things already. Others are far behind in providing needed controls and equipment.

In answer to federal pollution control legislation, Illinois set up new criteria for water quality on all interstate rivers. Similar criteria is now being applied to interior streams.

These standards, which went into effect last year, require that water must be pure enough to support fish and aquatic life on most streams and to permit recreational fishing on the Illinois, Mississippi and other rivers.

Meeting these standards requires a huge, diversified program allowing for expansion and construction of sewage treatment plants throughout the state and massive innovative ways to undo the damage already done.

This Land Is Your Land...

(The following editorial appeared in the Littleton, Colo., Independent in mid-June. It has been widely reprinted, including in the Daily Egyptian, the student newspaper of Southern Illinois University, Carbondale. A subsequent SIU student letter called it "preposterous swill." What is your reaction?)

We have faith in America. We take pride in our Founding Fathers and the Constitution. We have faith in the government that has been copied but not necessarily followed by many other countries.

We like our 200 million fellow citizens who have joined us in this struggle to put the knowledge that produces a brew known as Brotherhood.

We glory in our traditions of freedom, friendliness and tolerance; for the Supreme Court that protects the lowest individual from the vast machinery of government.

Our spirit soars at the thought of traveling and trading freely in the largest open market of the world—3,615,000 square miles.

We hold up our heads as Old Glory flutters on Flag Day, symbolizing our association of free men and women, dedicated to privacy and equality for all.

We analyze the "broken home" statistics and discontinue the world's most common cause of death—that 83% of the men and women who exchange vows at the altar actually maintain their bond of holy matrimony "til death" do them part.

We observe Americans at work and understand that 6% of humanity produces 50% of the world's wealth.

We think to the future with confidence, knowing that 7 million earnest college students are preparing for leadership to join with the common anguish of men and women who flock to our shores because of the good life they found here.

We take comfort in the fact that America has a smaller percentage of Communists than any other modern power—the FBI boasting a 20% infiltration into U. S. Communist cells!

We stand up for the quality of our youth, realizing that not 5% of them have lost the way in this or previous generations.

We thank the millions of civic workers whose volunteer labor built in the Great Society through service in the Boy Scouts, YMCA's, Red Cross, school boards, planning commissions, human relations councils, town boards and a thousand other agencies.

We are aware of inflation but know that it is less than any other major industrial power; we remember Depressions but know that the knowledge to prevent them, as we have done since the 1929 crash.

We talk about the gold outflow, but know that the world's dominance of the American dollar, whose worth is based on the vast enormous productivity of any nation in any era.

We salute the morals of America, the most religious great nation on earth, with the highest percentage of church membership of any nation.

We like a people who respect the law, declaring that "law and compliance with law end in changing the hearts of men."

We find that our nation has had less civil disturbance in the past century. Scarcely a sound of holy matrimony "til death" do them part.

GC Club Honors Sternberg; Hears Talk by Calvo

Fred Cunningham, president of the Granite City Optimist Club, presided at their noon meeting Thursday at the YMCA with 26 members and two guests, Arnold Schwartz and Charles Bowman, both from Racine, Wis., in attendance. They were the guests of Vernon Tharp, executive secretary of the "Y," who formerly resided in Racine.

Arthur D. Roseman, a local member, presented his son-in-law, G. H. Sternberg, Optimist International president, with a special banner, inscribed "Honor Club International President." Sternberg in turn presented the banner to the club, which is entitled to display the banner for the remainder of the year.

Program chairman Alex Duccini introduced the guest speaker, Horace Calvo, local lawyer and Democratic candidate for state representative, who spoke on "Politics."

Calvo said his two main issues, if elected, will be to strive for an overpass in Granite City between West Granite and the downtown area. The need will be greater, he said, when the Great River runs behind the A. O. Smith Corp. plant ends at the Army Depot gates on Niedringhaus avenue. There, all traffic would be forced to travel east on Niedringhaus.

Secondly, Calvo said, he is not in favor of a convention to revise the State Constitution. He stated the constitution can be amended by a simple majority of the voters if the need for amendment arises, thus eliminating the need for a convention.

He added that organized labor in this area is against such a convention.

Schwartz and Bowman were guests of Vernon Tharp, executive secretary of the YMCA, who formerly resided in Racine.

Musical Team Will Perform at Baptist GNC

Rev. James Feaman, pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church in Edwardsville and chairman of the Good News Crusade, announced today the Stalnecker-Tyson team of musicians will appear at the Granite City high school athletic field on Aug. 9 to 18, in conjunction with the Crusade.

The Good News Crusade is sponsored by the Madison County Baptist Association.

This two husband-and-wife team met at Louisiana State University, where Mrs. Betty Stalnecker received her master's degree in voice and her husband, Edw. Stalnecker, a bachelors degree in music. David and Carol Tyson, accompany the singers on the organ and piano, and travel with them across the country and overseas. These four people have recorded at least ten albums in New York, Chicago, London, England, and Memphis, Tenn., the Stalneckers' home.

Mrs. Stalnecker's first record made in 1960 outsold another recording of Gospel songs made by Elvis Presley in Memphis, hometown of both singers.

29 College, HS Leaders Aid Recreation Program

A variety of games both active and quiet sports, handicraft classes and contests provided summer recreation for about 700 children in the park district area.

Staff members were in attendance at the centers from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday through Friday each week, and the children could attend half day or full day sessions.

File Vandalism Charge For Building Damage

Carl W. Rude, 43, St. Louis, was arrested by Venice police on a vandalism charge Friday afternoon after officers had found four boys tearing lumber from the old 118 Club in Venice and loading it into a rental trailer. The complaint was signed by Louis Fitter, owner of the property.

Police said they arrested the four boys but later released them when they learned the boys were doing the work for Rude. The boys said they had been told by Rude that he had permission to tear down the building. One load of lumber was hauled away before police stopped the operation, police said.

Rude was released on a notice to appear for a magistrate hearing in Madison Sept. 11.

Former Depot Commander 'Engineering' for SIU-SW

A former Army engineer, who once studied water currents in the local two-state metropolitan area, now concentrates on the flow of money and benefits to the Southern Illinois University Foundation at the southwestern campus.

Charles Schweizer, retired U. S. Army colonel, former commander of the Granite City Army Depot and one-time Corps district engineer for St. Louis, has taken to his post-Army post easily.

"It's all engineering," the smiling assistant director of the Foundation stated, referring to a comparison of the jobs. "As an engineer I helped construct bridges and other facilities for military purposes. At SIU I help construct bridges between the community and the University to help young people get an education."

As the Foundation's ranking official at the southwestern campus, Schweizer handles the solicitation and reception of gifts. Sometimes, these functions are carried out with individuals or corporations, while a great deal of his time is spent assisting organizations that are uniquely pledged to helping the University receive financial support.

Many "Friends" Community-sponsored organizations most prominently involved with University activities and Foundation collections are SIU-SW's Friends of Music, Friends of the Library, and Slavic and East European Friends, all associated with the new campus.

As their titles imply, these organizations are primarily concerned with contributions in the areas of music or library, but they also aid the Foundation in furthering other University interests.

"These people are not only doing a great service for the University," the wavy-haired Schweizer notes, "but they are providing inspiration for students and faculty. They are pledged to helping us make this University one of the finest in the land."

FORMER GC ARMY DEPOT commander, Charles Schweizer, who now is "engineering" finances for the Southern Illinois University Foundation at the southwestern campus.

In recent months, the Slavic Friends of the Library have contributed more than 3500 rare volumes to the library, some of which have been sent from Slavic nations.

Schweizer's desire to strengthen the Foundation is inspired only by the good it can do to the community in general.

Formed at Carbondale in 1942 as a not-for-profit organization, the Foundation over the years has produced many "essentials" for both the southwestern and the Carbondale campuses. Hundreds of students have been helped through school with its funds, which are loaned free of charge, with repayment not expected until after graduation.

Many other students and faculty have had inventions and other worthwhile projects backed by the Foundation.

Loans Aid Students "We are glad to invest in a student who is willing to learn," Schweizer notes. "Our loans and scholarships often give students their only chance to obtain a college education."

The foundation also gives awards and recognition for outstanding performance by students. During the 1967-68 year, citations for "margin of excellence in studies were presented to 16 people."

With regard to gifts, Schweizer said the University would have difficulty acquiring some equipment for high-level research if it weren't for the Foundation's work with corporations. He cited as an example a $40,000 spectrophotometer that Clark Oil and Refining Co. of Hartford will present to the campus this fall.

"We strive to be reasonable and accommodating to both the contributors and users of our funds and services," the dapper Foundation officer stated, "with the prospect of creating a better life for all."

As a long-time Army officer who spent several years in Asia and Europe, Schweizer is acquainted with needs all over the world. He feels education can cure many ills, both at home and abroad, and therein lies one of the main reasons he came to SIU in 1966.

"This is where the action is," he smiled, "and that's the way I like it."

Seven Radar Speeding Arrests by GC Police

Four motorists were arrested at 26th street and Nameoki drive between 3:50 p.m. and 4:35 p.m. Friday on radar-based speeding charges. They were Robert Ellerbeck, Florissant, Mo.; Anthony Germaneri, 2208 Cleveland blvd., St. Louis; and Bobby Coleman, Edwardsville Route One. Coleman also was charged with having no state license.

Other radar arrests Friday included Steve Schmidt, St. Louis, 2209 block of Madison avenue; Robert McEney, Ferguson, Mo.; 20th and St. Clair avenue; George Gifford, 2306 Washington avenue, was charged with speeding Friday at Jill avenue and Nameoki road.

Collide in Madison

A car driven by Lee King, 1019 Cathoon street, Venice, an employee of the Venice city street department, and an auto driven by Julia A. Ross, Alton, were damaged in a collision at 12th and State streets, Madison, at 12:50 p.m. Friday. King was making a left turn into State street. His car was damaged in the front and the Ross car in the right front.

'Hoss and the Lords' At 'Y' Dance Tonight

The YMCA tonight will feature "Hoss and the Lords" at its weekly dance. This band is from out-of-town and has made two past appearances at Teen Town here.

Hoss and the Lords drew large crowds at both of their previous appearances. The dances are held every Monday from 8:30 to 11:30 during the summer, and all high school students are welcome.

"The Rising Sons" will be on stage next Monday, Aug. 12. Youth Director Charles Haise said.

Turning Auto Strikes Parked Car, Building

Alan R. Thompson, 17, of 4120 Kaseberg lane was charged with careless driving at 12:15 a.m. Sunday after his auto had gone out of control while northbound on Madison avenue and turning west onto 23rd street.

The front of his car hit the rear of a parked 1954 auto with Missouri license plates and then collided with a building occupied by Architects Gabriel & Dulgeroff at 1509 Twenty-third street. The driver said his foot slipped off the brakes and struck the accelerator pedal.

Two Venice Men Face Charges After Fight

Two Venice men, both living at the same address, were arrested by Venice police at 2:20 a.m. Friday as the result of an argument in which one of the men was struck on the head with a gun.

Police said they charged Alex McGairk, 23, of 1211 Bissell street, with unlawful use of a weapon and disorderly conduct, and charged Lester Griffin, 42, of the same address with disorderly conduct.

According to police Griffin was struck on the head, suffering a scalp wound. A .22 caliber pistol with five live shells was taken from McGairk, officers said.
